

ALL OUR cottages have been specially converted for holiday letting. They are spacious, comfortable and practical, with fully equipped and well designed kitchens. All cooking is by electricity; water heating is by immersion heater. Each cottage has off-peak Nightstor heaters. The sitting rooms have open hearth fires. Beds all have interior sprung mattresses with a mattress cover, two pillows and a continental quilt. Linen and towels are not normally provided, but can be hired for an extra charge. A cot and high chair can be provided at no extra charge. A camp bed can also be hired. Each cottage has an automatic washing machine, tumble dryer and ironing facilities, as well as a Microwave oven, an electric filter coffee machine and colour Television. Outside there are picnic tables and benches and there is plenty of space for car parking. Most mobile telephone networks operate from here; and there is a telephone coin box next door to Millhouse. Pets are welcome provided they are house trained and respect the countryside.

HOW TO FIND US:
 FROM NEW GALLOWAY: Leave the village on the A762 towards Ayr. After 2 miles continue past the entrance to Glenlee Park on the left and then a wooded park. Shortly after a narrow bridge and as the main road forks round to the right, the entrance to the cottages is on the left.
 FROM DALRY: Turn off the A713 north of Dalry on the A762 towards New Galloway. After a mile and having crossed two bridges, the road forks round to the left and the entrance to the cottages is on the right.

GLENLEE HOLIDAY HOUSES

NEW GALLOWAY
 CASTLE DOUGLAS SCOTLAND

Fishing Golf Walking Heritage
Cycling Sailing Gardening

GLENLEE ESTATE has been owned by the Agnew family for over seventy years. It lies in the Glenkens in the heart of Galloway - a charming, unspoilt corner of south-west Scotland - an area which has lots to discover yet can still offer the comforts and amenities crucial for a good family holiday away from it all. The countryside and landscape are varied: soft rolling hills, pastoral farmland, open moorland, woods and forests, rivers and lochs and the sandy beaches of the Solway coast. Yet the larger towns of Ayr and Dumfries are only 40 minutes away.

LOCAL AMENITIES are several. The villages of Dalry and New Galloway, both two miles away, have a bank and post office, general stores, craft shops, as well as good pubs and cafés. Arrangements can be made with us to have grocery orders delivered to your cottage for your arrival.

AT GLENLEE, free trout fishing is offered on our stretch of the River Ken and other fishing is available locally. There is a sporting nine-hole golf course at New Galloway and there is sailing, canoeing and windsurfing on Loch Ken; and for walkers, the Southern Upland Way is on the doorstep. New Galloway is an excellent centre for bird watching, with two RSPB Reserves nearby. There are several interesting castles and historic buildings to visit and the National Trust Gardens at Threave are a must for any keen gardener.

THE COTTAGES

THESE SPECIALLY CONVERTED traditional cottages were formerly part of the old Home Farm. They adjoin each other around a charming courtyard set in quiet secluded woods, well away from the road. Barn owls live here and can frequently be glimpsed on summer evenings. There is a special woodland walk - The Glen - from the cottages through woodland and past two spectacular waterfalls.
